Nineteen Eighty Talon

TALON '80 Vol. 9

Life Activities

People Sports

A group of concerned parents met one Thursday in early 1969 to discuss the possibility of a private school. The school to be established would provide an education for grades one through twelve. The new academy would not use any government funds for its operation.

The months progressed and in September of 1970 the school doors of Talladega Academy opened to accept its students. Talladega Academy was located in a two-story frame house on North Street. The first year of operation T.A. only offered classes to students in grades one through nine. The next year the Academy would offer classes for all twelve grades because plans for a new school were being discussed.

A new school was built along with a gym and football field. Talladega Academy's tenth anniversary is this year, 1980. There have been additions to aid the curriculum in providing students with a well rounded education. Talladega Academy stood then as a hope and today as an accomplishment.

THE CHIES IN A MINIMUM IN THE RESIDENCE OF THE PARTY OF T

Give me yesterday's dreams and last year's memories.

Scott Pruitt works very hard to finish his assignment so he can go play.

Mrs. Perkins is very surprised to see the new student in her Physiology Class.

Ginger Hall, Ed Jewell, and Skip Bates compare notes while studying for a government test.

Give me this day's realities and the courage to accept them.

Mrs. Shad-dix explains to students how check out a book from the library.

Now I know what school is really like.

Karan Gaither and Sue Pace discuss raising money for the yearbook.

Melinda Horn tells the class about how she remembers the parts of the skeleton.

Coach Davis stands in the hall to watch for stragglers to class.

Scott Pruitt tries to break the first grade class record for swinging the highest.

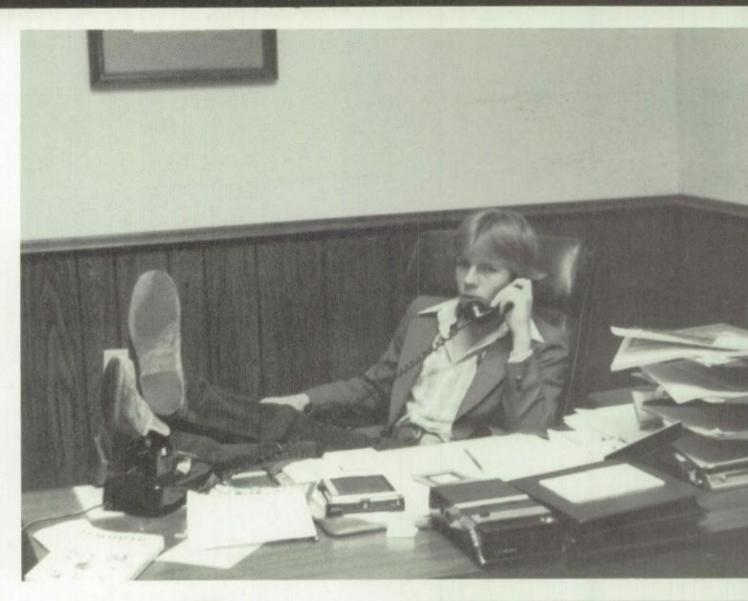

Donna Baker watches as Yolande' Vincent explains the prob-lem they are working.

Paul Hamby finds it hard to stay awake during class.

Jason Brooks gives Amy Fain a fright as he looks off to the side while see-sawing.

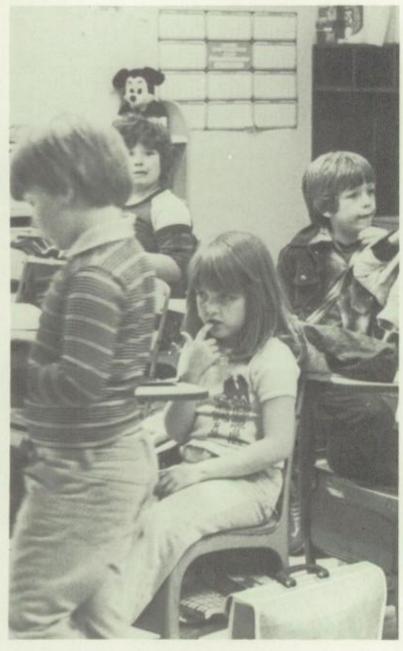

Getting a taste of the Headmaster's job, Possum Reginald Wesson looks official behind his stack of papers.

Jackie Swinford and his father check on last minute details before leaving for the Bahamas.

Coach Davis takes a playful swing at April Hartsfield.

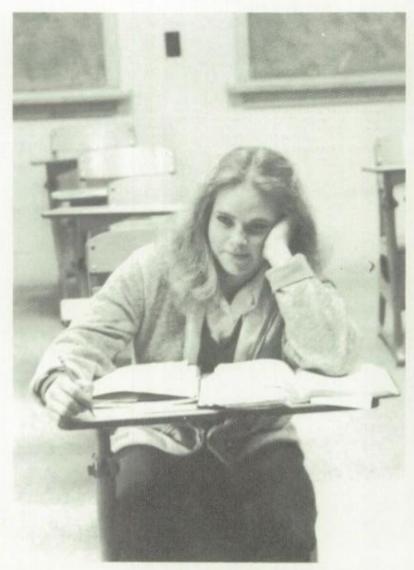

Reana McRae takes a moment to think before writing down the answer.

Struggling to keep her balance Laurie Pitts allows David Allred to tie her shoe.

Elaine Wright fills out the forms that will permit her to go on the Bahama trip.

Kim Hayes looks as though she is in a dream world all her own.

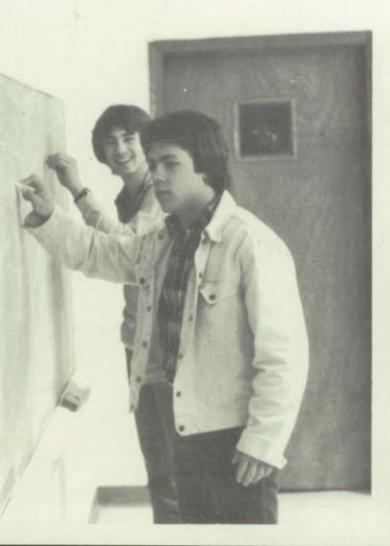

David Arnold and Glenn Bussey have an open discussion during class.

Suddenly spotting the photographer, Mike Beverly pretends to be a ten-point deer.

First graders enjoy their play-period outside on the hill.

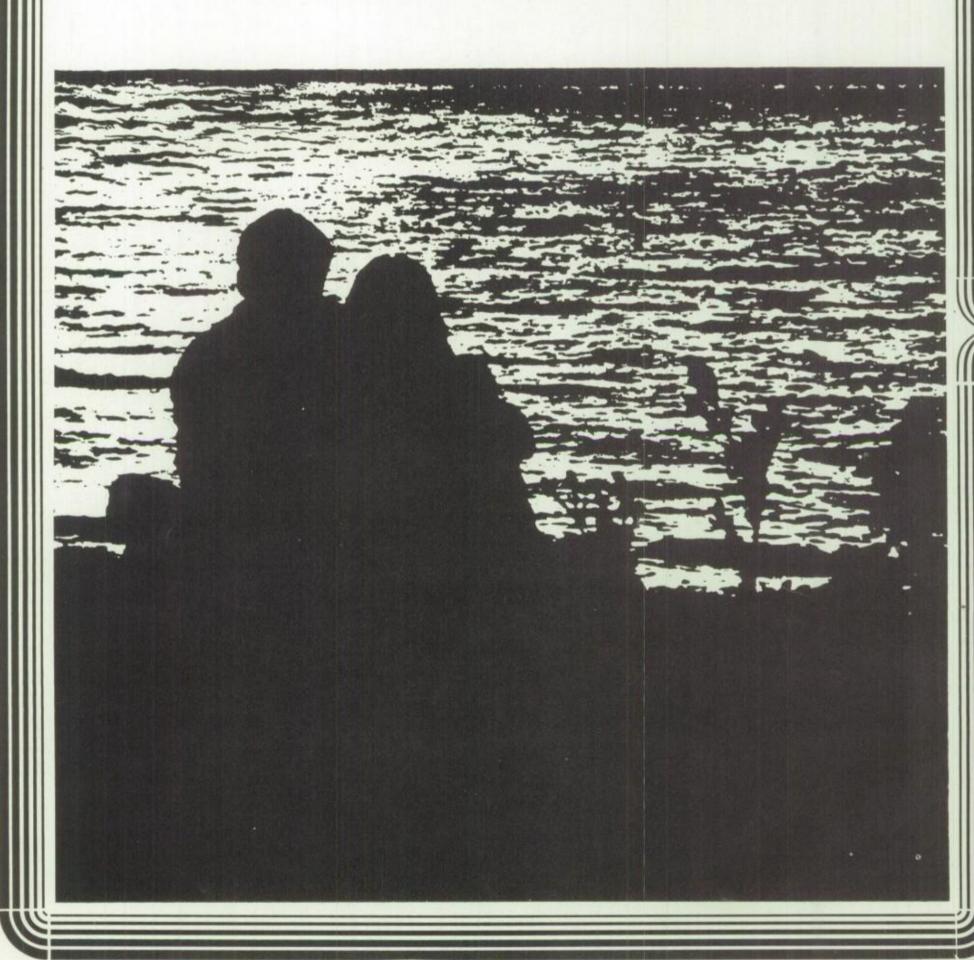

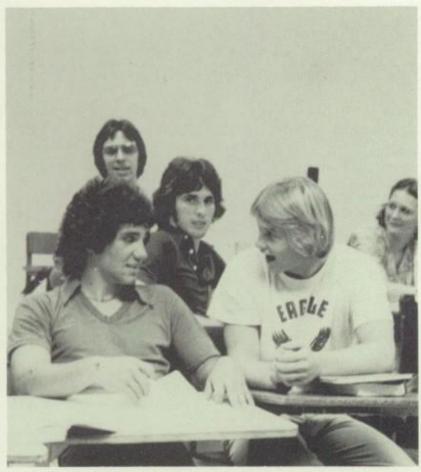

Franklin Self and Jeb Fannin go to the board to work out their problems in business math.

Trying to avoid the camera, Miss Hubauer turns to ask Mrs. Bussey a question.

Student Life

Although history seems fuzzy to some students, Mr. Patterson makes it crystal clear to Sandy Hopkins and Margaret Darrah.

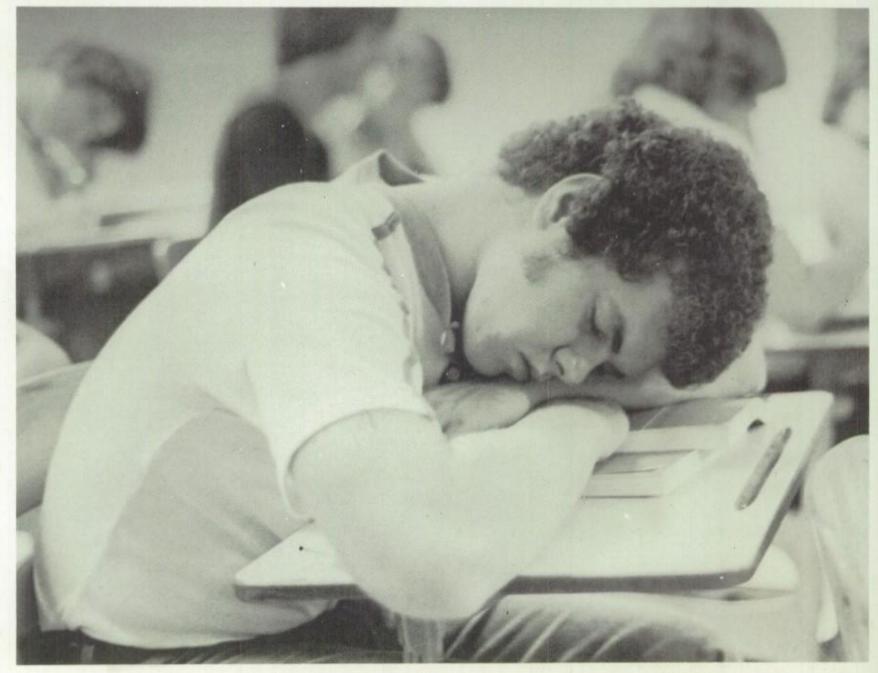

On Chaucer Day, Dana Fisher helps Mrs. Campbell fix the refreshments.

While other students work quietly, Roger Burdette showers Mrs. Campbell with questions.

Scott Coker recovers from the "Monday Morning Blues" during his second period English class.

History and English Lend Problems

Mr. Patterson doesn't seem too happy about the answer on a test paper.

Mrs. Shaddix is busy even before school.

Anyone who has ever crammed all night memorizing Amendments to the Constitution or verb tenses can understand the problems history and English can give.

History presents its own difficulties, as in remembering which battles went with which wars, or which events happened on which dates. History classes weren't designed to lend such problems but were meant to help you understand why the world is what it is. Here at our school, History, and Alabama History were taught by Mr. Patterson, Coach Baker, and Mrs. Wallis.

English also presents problems. Such things as semicolon uses and Eighteenth Century authors aren't too easily remembered. Plots such as those of A Tale of Two Cities or Beowulf can become pretty confusing. Helping us make it through our English problems were Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Shaddix.

One of the more unusual of the English problems was Chaucer Day. After studying the works of Geoffery Chaucer, who wrote about life in 12th Century England, the 12th grade came dressed as one of Chaucer's characters. Most students said that they felt silly as medieval monks or country squires. But all agreed that it was a definite change of pace.

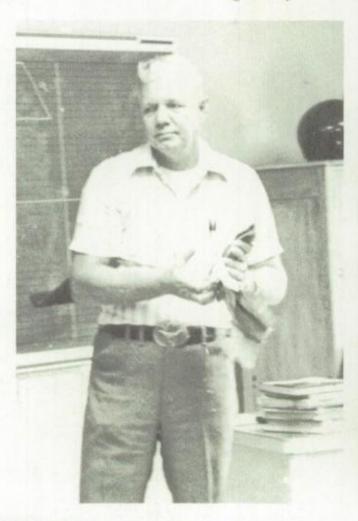

Certain classes prove to be a trial for some students. Usually, these classes are either business or math.

After all, these classes are the most demanding ones. An answer is either right or wrong, there is no middle ground. Adding to our frustrations this year were: Mr. William Smith—7th and 8th grade math, Algebra I and Algebra II, Geometry, and Trigonometry; Mrs. Lucy Shaddix—Typing I and Typing II, and Bookkeeping; Mrs. Kathy Wallis—Business Math.

Mr. Smith feels his explanation did not get across to his students, exactly as he wanted to.

MATH#BUSINESS

David Allred ponders over a problem in geometry.

Business math students listen as Coach Baker explains how they should do their homework.

Mrs. Wallis calls on Mike Beverly to work a problem on the board, but does not expect the response she gets from him.

=FRUSTRATION

Dana Fisher, not quite understanding the Typing II exercise, hopes that Mrs. Shaddix will be able to straighten her out.

Scott Coker finds that it is not as easy as it looks to change a typewriter ribbon.

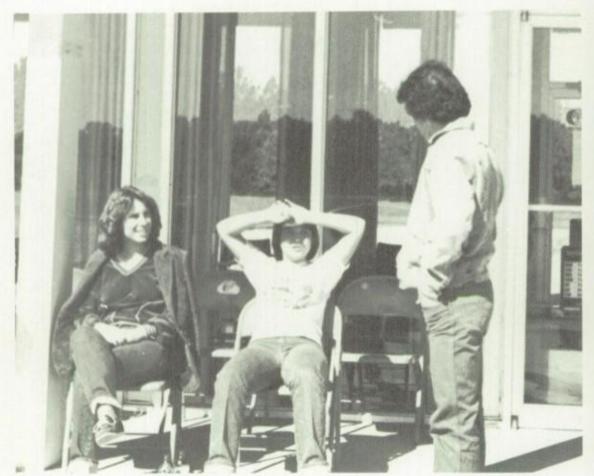

Susie Morris works as fast as she can to finish her assignment before the bell rings.

Anna Atkisson checks over her Typing I exercise before handing it in to be graded.

Science Classes Cause Discovery

Sebastain models his new summer wardrobe.

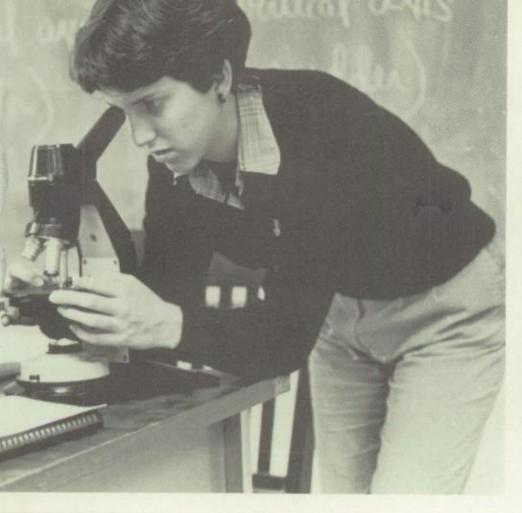

Donna Baker, Lisa Simmon, and Scott Halpin manage to find time to talk on the Aerospace field trip.

Anna Atkission and Jimmy Harrell find out that lab work can be hard.

Mandy Smelley tries to get her Physiology straightened out.

Sharon Hinton finds something interesting on the slide.

Scott Halpin, Joe Wayne Josey, and Timmy Edwards freeze while posing for this picture.

Nancy "Jean" Perkins seems amused at one of her Physiology student's remarks about the ear.

BETA CLUB AND STUDENT

Former Student Council president, Jackie Swinford, turns campaign manager as he introduces his candiate for the new presidency, Glenn Bussey.

Kim Mitchell, running in the election for Student Council Secretary, hopefully presents her speech to the student body.

Jan Holmes lights a symbolic candle before giving her acceptance speech for the office of vicepresident of the Beta Club for 1980-81.

COUNCIL

Student Council office candidates and their campaign managers nervously await their turn to give a speech.

Beta Club members Lily Weaver, Jan Holmes, Laurie Pitts, and Melissa Hartsfield look on as secretary Sharon Hinton, takes notes on their discussion.

At the annual Beta Club induction, Sharon Hinton turns over her office of secretary to Anna Atkisson.

Susie Morris' team members look on in anticipation as she puts all her strength into smashing the ball for her usual homerun.

Kim Mitchell tips the ball in an attempt to score a point for her team.

WE PLAY THE FIELD!

Glenda Howell prepares to make contact with the ball as catcher, John Mullinix, keeps a watchful eye on the situation.

If you're like most students, your favorite class of the school day is P.E.! It's the only time when you can get out of the classroom, away from your textbooks, into the great outdoors, and still get a good grade for it. The only condition is that you have to dress out, which really isn't so bad, now is it? At least in the summer it improves your tan! In addition you get the excitement of competition, the thrill of victory, and the agony of defeat!

This year the boys' and girls' classes were instructed by Coaches Mark Davis, Mike Patterson, and Ben Baker. Both classes had a very active year and a lot of fun times. Looking back on those cold, cloudy afternoons, all that hot summer sweat, and dreary rain-soaked hours spent in the gym, just think how many memories would be missing without them! Now, isn't it all worth it?

Trying to reach the base before the ball, Karen Leonard bounds toward second.

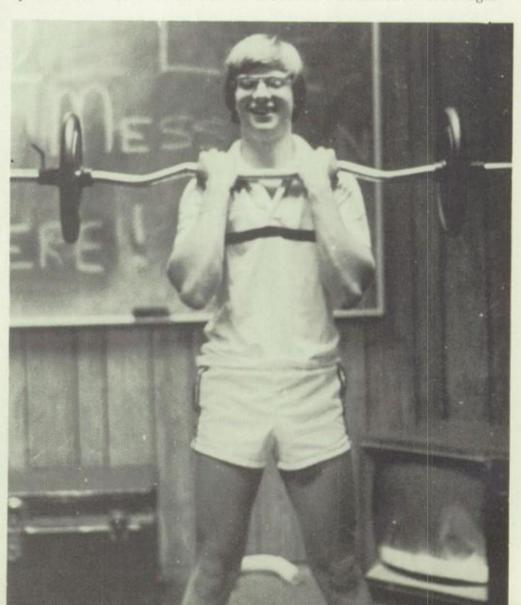

The football field proved to be more than just that . . . this year it served as a soccer, kickball, and softball field as well. Here, John Mullinix rushes toward the goal with his pursuers right at his heels.

The weight-lifting program provided a fun and helpful way for the boys to spend their time, as Steven Deck demonstrates with this show of strength.

T.A. Big Winner at Science Fairs

Science fairs have always been a part of spring for T.A. students, and this year we had our share of winners at Regional and even State competition.

The science fairs began with the local exhibition on March 3 in the gym. All students who take a science course are required to enter a project, and many had hopes of winning. When the judging was over, 34 students had won.

In the sixth grade, Margaret Darrah took first place, Joel Hethcox took second, and Joey Hutto won third.

In the Junior High competition, the winners were: Botany: 1st Marguerite Hackney; 2nd Tammie Brown; 3rd Susan Atkisson. Zoology: 1st Tommy Reaves; 2nd Cindy Washburn; 3rd Elaine Wright. Medicine and Health: 1st Karen Leonard; 2nd Mike Perkins; 3rd Michele Hannah. Earth and Space: 1st Allison Bates; 2nd Carla Hunkapiller; 3rd Scott Roberson. Chemistry: 1st Cannon Fannin; 2nd Susan Hethcox; 3rd Alinda Newman. Physics: 1st Alan Yates; 2nd Tim McRae; 3rd Todd Fulmer.

Senior High Winners were: Botany: 1st Amy Fain; 2nd Jan Holmes. Zoology: 1st Ginger Hall; 2nd Lisa Simmons. Health and Medicine: 1st Dana Fisher; 2nd Sharon Hinton; 3rd Dawn Wright. Earth and Space: 1st Dabney Reddish. Math: 1st Al Armstrong. Chemistry: 1st Laurie Pitts; Physics: 1st Timmy Fulmer; 2nd David Lyle; 3rd Steven Deck.

Then T.A. competed in the Northeastern Regional Science Fair at Jacksonville University. We had two who won the Army Aviation Award there. They were 1st David Lyle and 2nd Timmy Fulmer.

T.A. next competed in the APSA District VII Science Fair which was held here in the gym. Winners in the Elementary Division were: 4th grade: Andy Anderson, Angela Newman, Christy Gaither, David Leonard, and Mark Walker. Fifth Grade: Jim Fannin, Lisa Garrison, Jake Deese, Beth McCrary, and Susan Jewell. T.A. had four winners in the Junior High Division: 1st Karen Leonard and Tim McRae; 2nd Mike Perkins and Allison Bates. The Senior High winners were: 1st David Lyle, Timmy Fulmer, and Ginger Hall, 2nd Sharon Hinton, Amy Fain, and Laurie Pitts. T.A. had two overall winners, Elementary: Jim Fannin; and Junior High: Karen Leonard.

Three students placed in the State-wide APSA competition. Two won first place in the High School Division, David Lyle and Timmy Fulmer. One won second in the Elementary Division, Lisa Garrison.

Ginger Hall comes in from the rain at the Jacksonville Fair.

Judges often question contestants and here Tim McRae answers some tough ones about his project.

HAPPY DAYS!

The T.A. school year is full of many holidays and holidays mean getting out of school. Students are excited about holidays because it means a rest from books, homework, school work, tests, teachers, and the hustle and bustle of every day school life.

During the month of October comes Halloween. It is a time for children to dress up in their Halloween costumes, go trick or treating, and come to T.A.'s Halloween Carnival. Even the older kids enjoy Halloween to add some fun and excitement to their lives.

In November comes Thanksgiving a time of eating and being with family and friends.

Winter is the season when we celebrate the birth of our Lord, Jesus Christ. Christmas is a time when people go out caroling, shopping, visiting, eating, wrapping and exchanging presents, and just rejoicing. School is also out for a little over two weeks.

With the changing of leaves, winter is over, and spring comes with A.E.A week, the last long holiday before school is out. Students get a good rest and come back to school well refreshed.

Scott Roberson carefully goes through his Christmas presents as John Mullinix watches from a distance.

Mrs. Beecham, the Kindergarten teacher, serves her class at their Thanksgiving party.

First graders carefully place tinsel on their Christmas tree.

Not believing how beautiful their Christmas tree is, Karen Leonard gazes in amazement.

CRAZY LITTLE THING CALLED LOVE!

Hundreds of songs have been composed about it. Television shows center around it. Great poems and famous novels have been written because of it. It's on the minds of people everywhere. It makes them smile, laugh, and often cry. It can bond hearts together or break them. What is it? It's LOVE! Something we all take for granted until it's gone. And what would life be without it? Love makes the world go'round! Love means different things to different people. At T.A. it could be shown by anything from wearing his class ring, to just grabbing a few moments together on the hill at lunch. To some, it's being walked to class, riding home on the bus together from those far away games, or that special invitation to Homecoming or the prom. Whatever it means, it is a big part of all our lives.

On the other hand, there are different kinds of love at T.A. We can't forget that loyal love for the school, our team, and all the friends we've made here. That's what has made it what it is today and will keep us together in the years to come. So go pull on your favorite pair of Levis and a Smazzy shirt, comb your hair, and head for the door, 'cause love's out there if you'll only look. But be sure to follow your heart instead of your head. Just like the songs say—"Love Hurts," and "Love Stinks," but in the end "Love Will Keep Us Together!"

All smiles, Karon Gaither and Scott Halpin pause with their awards at the Athletic Banquet.

Wherever you find one of these two, you can almost always find the other. Lee Halpin and Sue Pace have been a steady couple for quite a while now.

Jeff Duke and Jerri Payne take advantage of a break in their classes for a stroll around the building.

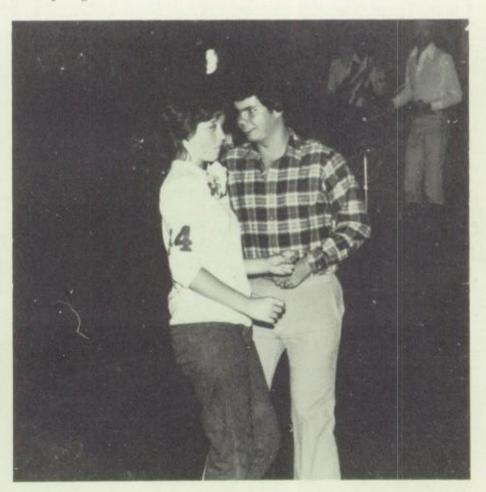

Susie Morris and David Arnold sit happily enjoying the Miss T.A. Beauty Pageant.

Carla Hunkapillar and Al Armstrong get caught in the act of sharing a dance at Homecoming.

Spending their break in the lab, David Allred and Laurie Pitts relax and browse through a magazine.

ELEMENTARY HIGHLIGHTS

Andy Wesson enjoys the springtime weather by playing in and around a large cement sewer pipe used as playground equipment.

Some elementary children play happily under a large oak tree on the hill.

The Disco Eagles showed their spirit this year by performing at football games. They are: Top left to right, Michele Hicks, Dana Mullinix, Shelly Hamby, Ralph Dulaney, Angela Newman, Karen Carter, Tammy Bradford; Bottom left to right: Pat Pace, Lori Bussey, Hope Taylor, Ginger Hall-leader, Jacye Pettus, Amy Jackson.

Scott Pruitt doesn't seem to mind having his picture taken during a Valentine party.

Holly Gaither, Amy Jackson, and Tammy Bradford seem to be enjoying a spring day outdoors.

Elementary students also have a part in the football games as they perform on the field.

Graduation: A Time To Remember

After graduation Jennifer Bishop is congratulated by her mother.

Brian Bussey shows his diploma to Andy Anderson.

After the graduation exercises, refreshment were served.

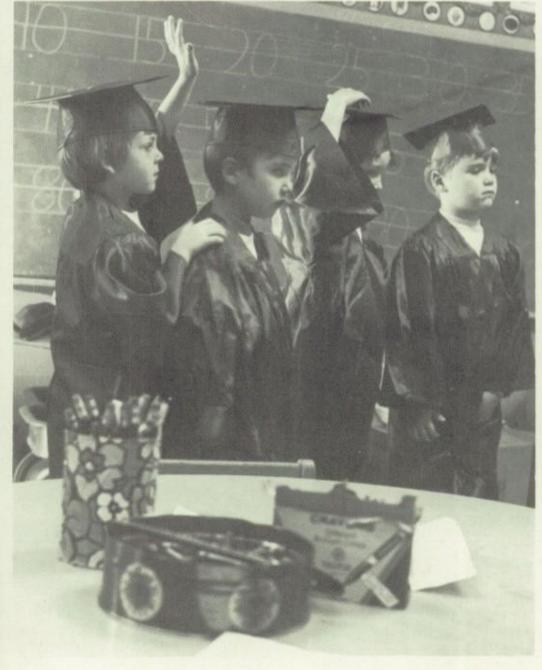

Mrs. Beecham and Mr. Anderson instruct the graduating class where to stand to get their pictures taken.

Hope Taylor looks at her shawl and remembers some past moments her class has had.

Undecided about what to do Brian Bussey raises his hand so he will know what to do.

Tenth grade students chose Lily Weaver and Jeff Duke as this year's class favorites.

Junior class favorites are Lisa Simmons and Mike Beverly.

GETHERNESS

Chosen as eighth grade class favorites are Michele Hannah and John Mullinix.

Sixth grade class favorites are Margaret Darrah and Joel Hethcox.

Tammie Brown and Ray Hamilton were voted class favorites by the ninth grade.

Seventh grade class favorites are Jill Williams and Jeff Halpin.

Student Activities

Representatives for Miss Talon this year were: Freshman Karan Gaither escorted by Mike Perkins; Sophomore and Runner-up Jan Holmes escorted by Jeff Duke; Senior, Miss Talon '80 Cindy Moxley escorted by Scott Coker; Junior Lisa Drummond escorted by Dabney Reddish.

On hearing the name of Cindy Moxley announced as Miss Talon 1980, Susie Irwin, Miss Talon 1979, walks toward Cindy Moxley to present her with a plaque.

Miss Cindy Moxley was chosen Miss Talon for the '80 season. A girl from grade 9-12 is chosen by popular vote to represent her class. The student body then votes to select Miss Talon. Representatives for Miss Talon this year were: Freshman: Karan Gaither; Sophomore: Jan Holmes; Junior: Lisa Drummond; Senior: Cindy Moxley.

Freshman representative, Karan Gaither, takes her walk as a Miss Talon representative.

Lisa Drummond receives her flower from the president of the Business Staff, Laurie Pitts.

WHAT WILL IT BE?

What can we do this year is always the question asked by the Business Staff each year when it is time to decorate for the Miss T.A. Pageant. This year they decided to use tall silver columns with a black background. They chose the theme "Just the Way You Are." The Business Staff with help from some Talon Staff members and students get the stages and the backboards set up and ready for the big night awaited by so many girls.

A tea is held each year at the home of Mrs. Huel Love for the judges to interview each contestant in the Pageant.

Karen Leonard, Ginger Hall, Barry Matson, David Allred, and Dabney Reddish get the stages even for the Pageant.

Yolande' Vincent tries to decide how to put the lettering on the backboard.

Kim Mitchell and Mrs. Perkins hurriedly push the scaffold where it is needed.

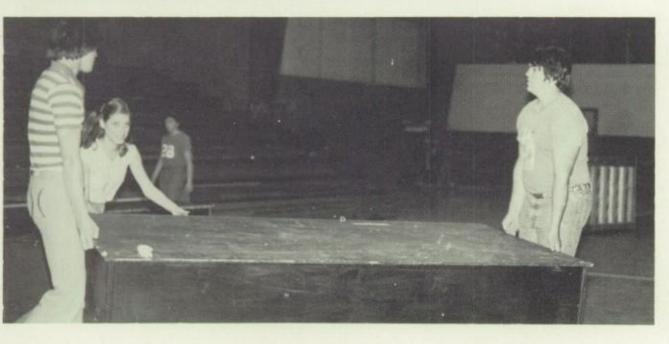

Hard at work Laurie Pitts tries to staple the cloth onto the stages.

After being interviewed, Yolande' Vincent, Dana Fisher, and Cindy Moxley get some refreshments.

"It's a long way down," Ginger Hall says as she looks off the scaffold.

Sue Pace, David Allred, and Mike Perkins help move a stage to where it is needed.

THE WAY YOU ARE

Just the way you are. That's how everyone wants to see you the night of the Miss T.A. pageant. Every girl looks so lovely the night of the pageant. After the girls take their walk on the stage, the judges concentrate hard on their big decision which has to be made. The final decision came when Miss Ginger Hall's name was called out for Miss Talladega Academy. Everyone seemed to be pleased with the choice.

Winners in the pageant were: Kim Mitchell—3rd Alternate; Cindy Moxley—1st Alternate; Ginger Hall—Miss T.A.; Elaine Wright—2nd Alternate.

The judges sit trying to decide on a winner.

After the pageant Ginger Hall and Kim Mitchell await the picture taking.

Revenge for Your Enemy!!!

As the Slave Day begins at Talladega Academy the Juniors and Seniors have horrible thoughts of what they will be going through that day; it will seem like an eternity to

It all comes about when all of the Juniors and some of the Seniors and teachers volunteer themselves as slaves. It is one of the money making projects for the Junior-Senior Prom. The slaves are sold to the students. Everyone gathers in the gym for the auctioning off of the slaves. The bids start at $1.50 and go up to as much as the student is willing to pay. Other than fun it is a way to get friends and teachers back.

Waiting for the Slave Day to end, Mrs. Perkins looks at the camera with frustration.

Cute little Scott Halpin decides that he doesn't have the ability to become a majorette.

David "Doc" Allred does his famous imitation of Steve Martin.

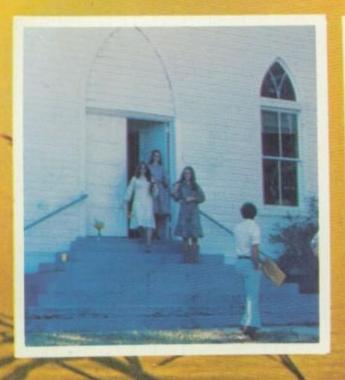

Mike Beverly has changed sex apparently, but only for the day.

HAPPY HOUR

2:30 p.m. to 8:00 a.m.

Yolande Vincent, Lynn Smith, and Donna Baker enthusiastically cheer the Eagles on to state.

Michele Sannah, Cumon Fannin, Tainmie Brown, Trassy Watson, and Sue Pace spend after school, time supporting the baske hall teams.

Going to Sunday Worship service is one way Anna and Susan Atkisson spend some of their after school time.

After school time has always been haunted by the presence of homework as Todd Fulmer finds out.

Learning to fly has been a very productive pastime for David Lyle.

The time after your final class has always included the trip home. For Michael Dikeman and Greg Adderhold this means a bus ride.

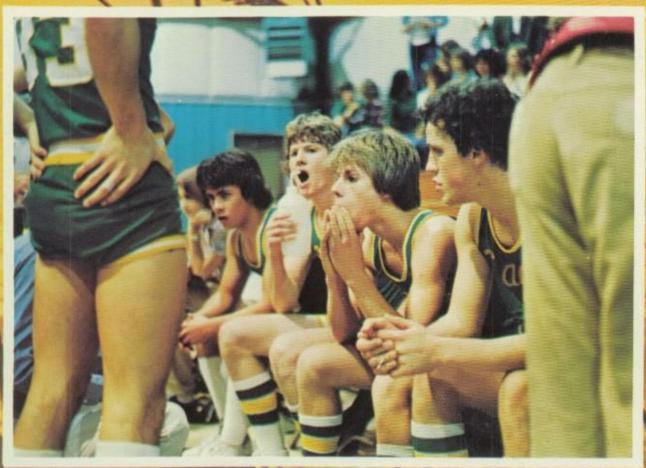

Being Varsity Cheerleaders is a very demanding pastime, but sports wouldn't be the same without them.

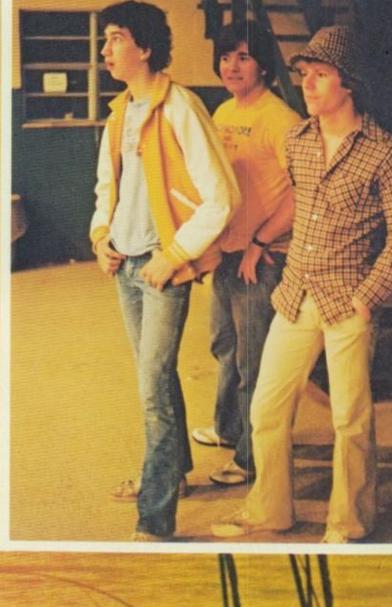

At a basketball game Mack Presley, Jimmy Harrell, and Jay Wes-son avidly watch the Lady Eagles.

Basketball is a popular way to use spare time as the Varsity Eagles well know.

Susan Atkisson knows how school photographers spend their after school hours.

TIMES WE'LL NEVER FORGET

This past year has been a great one to go down in history. Some of the events which have taken place are the 50 Americans hostages being held by Khomeini, "old meany"; The athletes participating in the winter Olympics at Lake Placid, New York; and the athletes being asked to support a boycott of the summer Olympics and diagnosing of the Shah's Illness. But the biggest shock of all was high prices of the gas and oil and the bad state of the economy. No one knows what it's going to be like next year, such as the many problems that it seems like we'll never be able to solve them all. But I guess that's something time will take care of. These are times we'll never forget.

Olympians still hopeful Carter accepts proposa

the Athletes Advisory Council of the U.S. Olympic Committee remained optimistic Sunday that they could persuade President Carter to accept their counterproposal which would permit them to participate in the summer Games in Moscow while simultaneously protesting the Soviet military presence in Afghanistan.

Anita DeFrantz of Princeton, N.J., a rower who was named spokesperson of the 47-member Council, said at the close of the group's three-day meeting here that "we think it is a good plan."

DeFrantz said, "We hope they we take a good look at it so when we conto discuss it, they will understand when we want to do."

ALMOST SUMMER

As the weather grows warmer, something seems to come over the students. They lose almost all of their interest in school work and spend a lot of their classtime daydreaming and staring out windows. They start eating lunch out on the hill, and school attendance falls off some.

Some call it spring fever and it's a sure sign that it's almost summer. Even in elementary grades, students begin watching the calendar and counting the days left in school. Naturally, seniors are especially vulnerable to spring fever. After all, they've been waiting for this spring for twelve years.

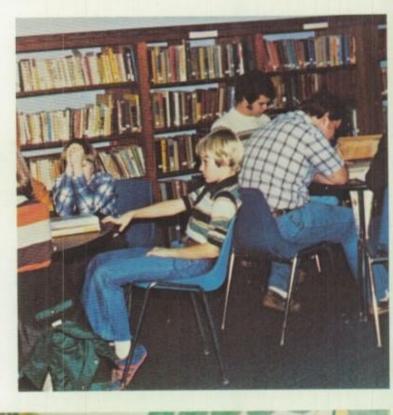

April Hartsfield gets ready to catch the ball in case Kim Mitchell misses. Before batting, Mack Presley is worried about how he will do.

THE FUN TIMES

Can you remember all of those fun times in class? Some of those days you just did not feel like doing anything, and your teacher didn't either. We've all had our days and some of them haven't been that pleasant.

IN LOVE WITH

Tony Parton and Mrs. Perkins look toward the stage as a contestant's name is called.

What do you get when you take a group of teenage boys, put them in dresses, add stockings, high heels, false eye lashes, and lipstick? A T.A. Womanless Beauty Pageant, of course! This year's pageant, sponsored by the Business Staff, turned out to be the most outrageous display of real foxes this town has ever seen.

The pageant this year was a great success with a big turnout of people. But who wouldn't pay to see all those great looking bodies and sexy legs assembled at one time. This year the pageant had another attraction, the "Most Beautiful Legs Contest." The winner was determined by the students casting votes with coins for the legs of their choice. A display board was set up on the hall with photos of anonymous pairs of legs, each identified by a number. The students voted for the picture of the legs they thought were most attractive. The winner of the "Most Beautiful Legs Contest" was David Allred.

This year's winner of the pageant was Mike Dye. First alternate went to Al Armstrong and second alternate went to Jackie Swinford. Everyone had an exciting and fun time.

THINGS THAT GO BUMP IN THE NIGHT

Brian Tuck positions his mouth just right to throw his airplane.

Mimi Franks and Greg Adderhold, representatives of the second grade, wait on stage for the announcement of King and Queen.

The Halloween Carnival is an annual event held each year at the National Guard Armory in Talladega. It is our main money-making project. This year it was a great success because of the support from the students, teachers, and parents. We made $5,452.50 on the carnival from different booths, bingo, and the Harvest King and Queen contest.

One girl and one boy from each grade, Kindergarten-Fifth, were chosen to represent their class. They sold candy, cup cakes, cookies, and tickets for prizes, and also asked for donations. The night of the Halloween Carnival the representatives from each class with the most money became the Harvest King and Queen. This year's Harvest King and Queen were Mimi Franks and Greg Adderhold from the second grade.

A costume contest is also held each year with this year's winners being Dottye Morris, Jim Fannin, and Todd Barksdale, "alias" KISS.

An unknown creature from "Star Wars" is seen walking through the crowd at the Halloween Carnival.

Participants of the costume contest await the announcement of the winners.

Trisha Duke studies the pictures and makes a decision as she waits to cast her vote in the "Most Beautiful Legs Contest" sponsored by the Business Staff.

At T.A. we work toward having the kind of money-making projects that really attract people and give us good times together that we'll never forget! Raising money is a necessity for a private school like the Academy, but who said it had to be just another dreaded chore? Just take this year's activities, for example. Parents and students alike worked together to set up the Halloween Carnival and Spring Festival, while different school clubs such as the Business and Talon Staffs, Beta Club, and individual classes sponsored many of their own events.

Is Mrs. Perkins just clowning around or having a serious discussion with Mr. Smith and these students? Juniors and faculty are glad Slave Day comes only once a year!

Minnie and Mickey Mouse, followed by Leslie Tapley, stroll down the road at Pines Park during our Spring Festival held there.

In one of the year's more exciting money-raising events, the T.A. Faculty played WNUZ in basket-ball. The proceeds went toward painting the school.

Lisa Drummond and Cannon Fannin help even the little kids to have fun at the Spring Festival while a wandering lion looks on.

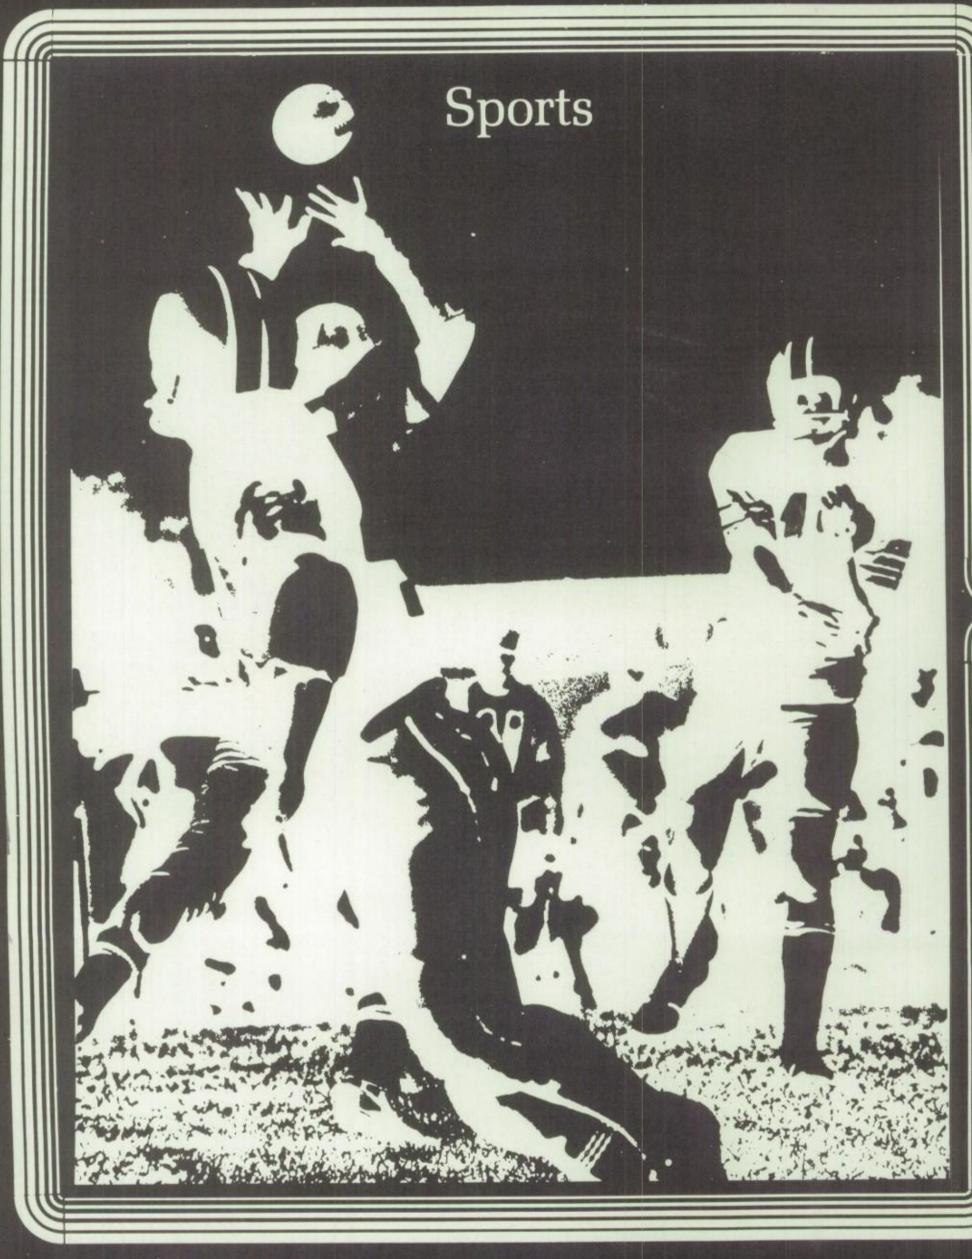

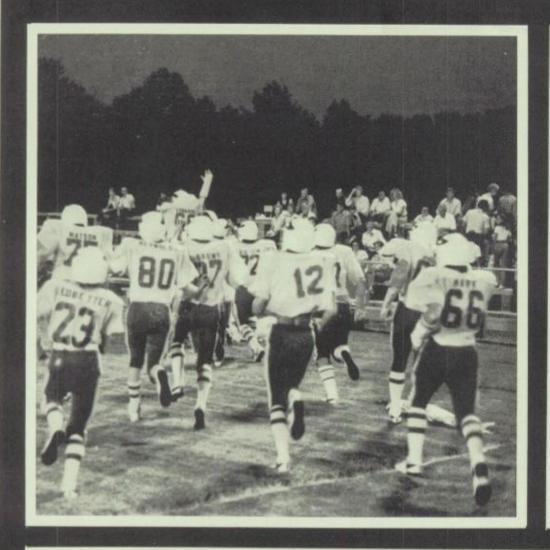

Brent Bussey, Janet Springfield, and David Leonard take part in the fun at the Halloween Carnival by playing one of the many games.

Mrs. Hackney, Mrs. Yates, and Mrs. Mitchell are just a few of the faithful parents who spent a lot of time and hard work to make the Spring Festival a real success. They are shown here taking up money, giving out cards, and presenting prizes at the bingo game.

Tension Builds as Homecoming

Approaches

During the week of Homecoming, the cheerleaders along with the other students had "dress up" days to show their school spirit. Monday was 50's Day, Tuesday was Walt Disney Character Day, Wednesday was Hick Day, and Friday was Green and Gold Day.

On Thursday night of Homecoming week a Bon-Fire was held to get everyone's spirits fired up.

During Homecoming week the cheerleaders showed their school spirit by hanging signs in both the school and the gym. This got the football team fired up and ready to win the game.

Friday of Homecoming week, floats were judged. First place went to the seniors, who have won first place for the past four years, second place went to the sophomores, and third place went to the seventh grade.

Wednesday of Homecoming week Dana Fisher dressed up, with many other people, to show her school spirit.

Dana Fisher walks happily down the hall in her Minnie Mouse suit on Walt Disney Character Day.

Leslie Tapley, Dawn Wright, and Melissa Hartsfield, Varsity Cheerleaders, dressed up on 50's Day.

At the Homecoming Pep Rally the cheerleaders got a little messy from the pies thrown at them.

Homecoming Victory Wraps Up Week

The 1980 Homecoming game was held on October 12th in Eagle Stadium against Edgewood. The Eagles walked away with a victory over Edgewood of 33-27.

Each grade, ninth through twelfth chooses one girl to represent its class in the Homecoming Court. This year's Homecoming Court is: Kim Mitchell, Freshman; Anna Atkisson, Sophomore; Lisa Simmons, Junior; Ginger Hall, Senior. The high school votes for the girl to be Homecoming Queen for 1980. Homecoming Court escorts are: Kim Giddens, Dabney Reddish, Terry Simmons, and David Allred, respectively.

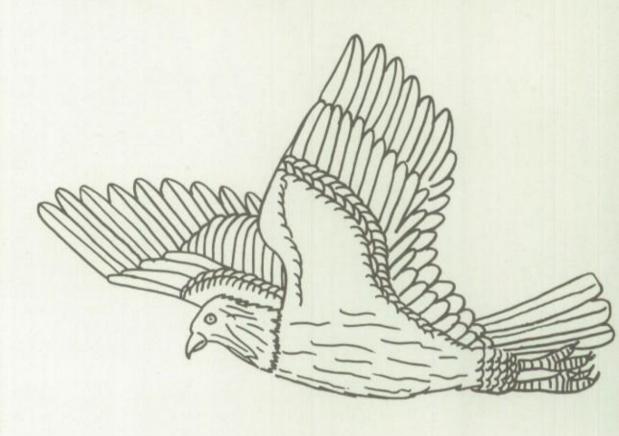

During the half-time Ginger Hall was chosen first alternate and Lisa Simmons was crowned the new 1980 Homecoming Queen by Dana Love, the 1979 Homecoming Queen.

After the game a dance was held in the gym with "Fat and Sassy" as the entertainment.

Alumnus such as Mark Carden come back to celebrate the Eagles victory.

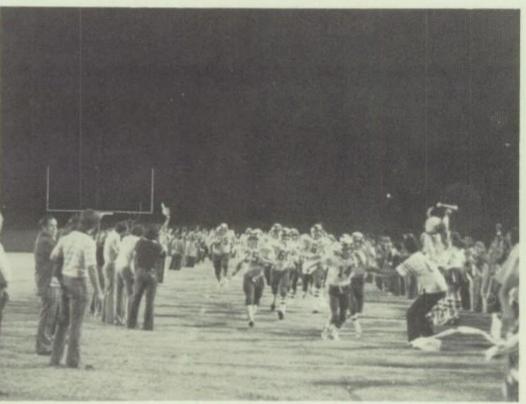

Lisa Simmons, with her escort Terry Simmons, is crowned by Dana Love as the new 1980 Homecoming Queen.

Excited fans make a victory lane for the football players to run through.

Michael Dikeman and Tracey Challender help the cheerleaders by picking up paper.

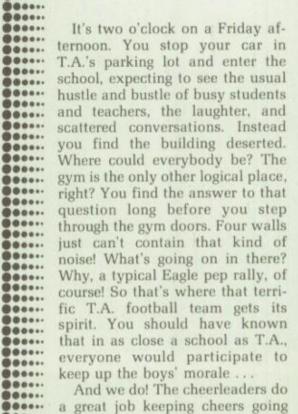

An assorted group of Eagle team members try to persuade reluctant quarterback, Jackie Swinford, to make a speech on the upcoming game.

The cheerleaders perform a takeoff skit of the Wizard of Oz in which they're off to see "the wonderful Coach Baker." They put on many such skits throughout the season to liven up T.A. pep rallies.

These students really seem to be giving the Eagles all they've got! Their smiles just go to show that if you put in a little spirit and energy, you get out a lot of good times.

And we do! The cheerleaders do a great job keeping cheers going and the student body keeps the spirit flowing. Now add some hilarious skits and encouraging speeches and you have a combination that can only equal one thing ... Great Pep Rallies!!! Through pep rallies we can show our football players how much we care, and after all, what is the real purpose of pep rallies anyway? . . . To show the Eagles that "We're behind them all the way!"

000000 000000

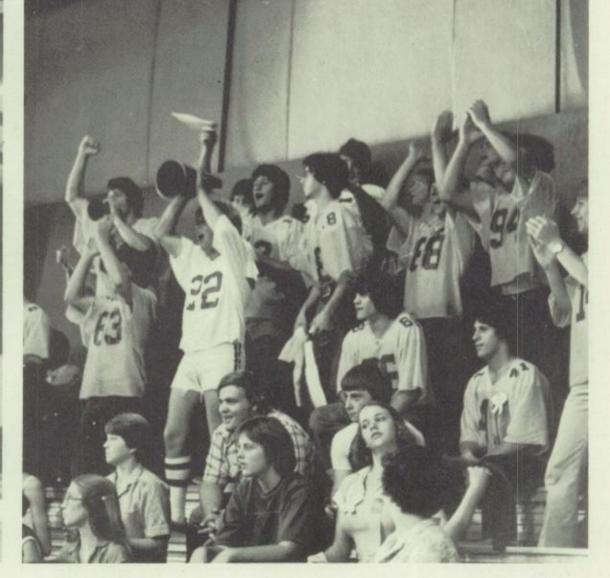

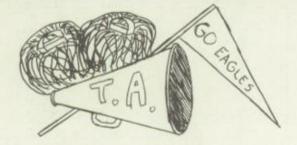

Coaches Ben Baker and Mark Davis give the student body, along with the players, a pep talk concerning that night's game. Both coaches showed a lot of enthusiasm toward winning and urged the students to come out to support the team.

Elementary students showed their faith in the mighty Eagles by holding up signs they made themselves and making a LOT of noise!

How's that for participation?! A whole team of excited boys can really say a mouthful. At this pep rally they won the spirit stick for doing just that!

The Varsity Cheerleaders pulled off this pyramid without a hitch. That's what results from a lot of long practices, aching backs, sore muscles, and real dedication. And all for YOU!

We Got the Style!

During the month of August the cheerleaders went to NCA camp at Auburn University. They go every year for a week to learn new cheers and new routines. This year our cheerleaders did a great job and came home with four superior ribbons, one super star ribbon, and a spirit stick.

The cheerleaders' sponsor this year was Cathy Mashburn. The cheerleaders along with Mrs. Mashburn worked very hard to raise money. One of their biggest projects was selling T-shirts. They also decorated for the Homecoming Dance and the Athletic Banquet. They did a great job decorating for both.

At a pep rally the football players get fired up for the big game.

Laurie Pitts shows her spirit by jumping in the air as someone rings a basket.

The Varsity Cheerleaders for 1979-80 are: Sue Pace, Lily Weaver, Melissa Hartsfield, Kim Hayes, Leslie Tapley, Laurie Pitts, Ginger Hall-Head, Sharon Hinton, Dawn Wright-Co-Head.

Before a game Dawn Wright and Sharon Hinton limber up for their up-coming pyramid.

During half-time Sharon Hinton and Sue Pace lead a cheer to get the spirit of the fans going.

We've Got the Spirit!

During the summer the Junior High Cheerleaders took out enough time to go to NCA camp at Auburn University. Here the cheerleaders learn new cheers, new routines, and the thrill of being a cheerleader.

Our cheerleaders came home with three first place ribbons, one second place ribbon, and a spirit stick.

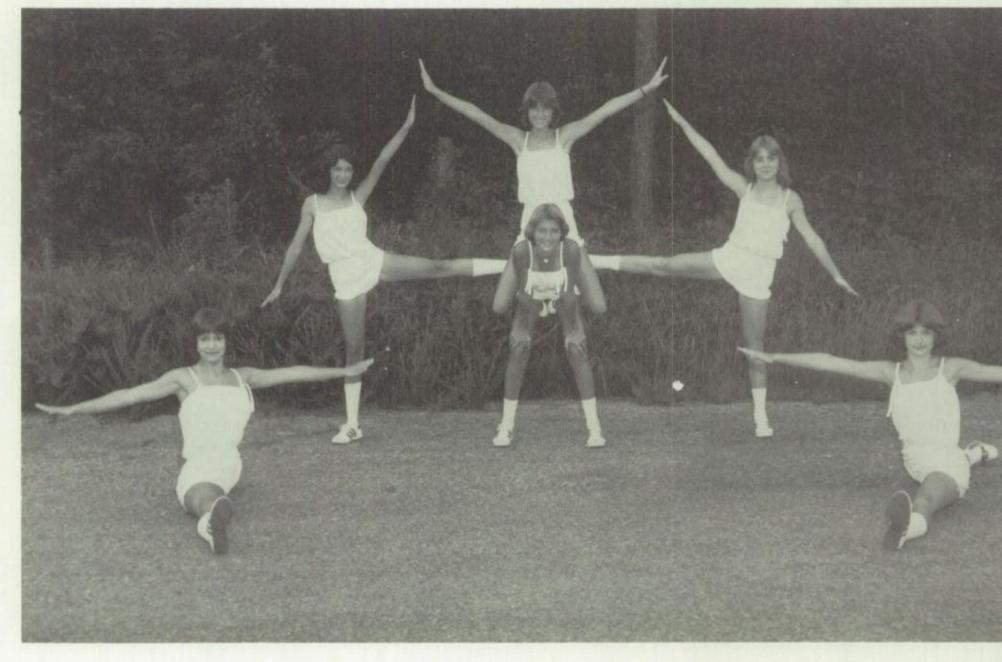

They helped out the Varsity Cheerleaders by cheering at a few pep rallies and at a couple of football games.

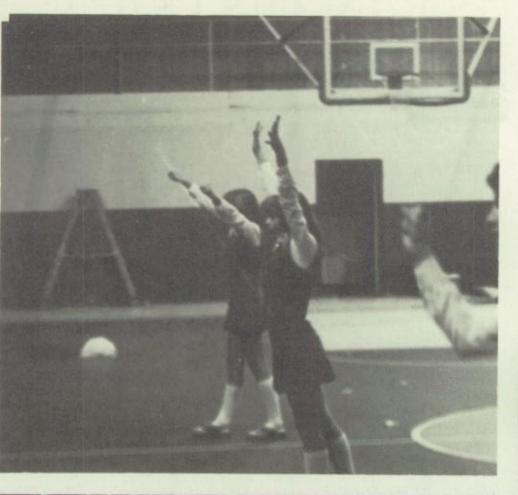

The cheerleader's sponsor this year was Cathy Mashburn. She helped by organizing and making sure everything got done.

Kim Mitchell jumps in the air to show her spirit.

The 1979-80 Junior Cheerleaders are: Elaine Wright, Cannon Fannin, Tracey Watson, Kim Mitchell-Co-Head, and Tammie Brown-Head, and Michele Hannah.

Students of T.A. sit on the bleachers waiting for the pep rally to Third graders yell as loud as they can in hope that they might win the spirit stick.

Cheering as loud as she can, Michele Hannah tries to get every-one's spirit fired up.

EAGLES FINISH 1ST IN DISTRICT;

2ND IN STATE

The T.A. Eagles really worked hard as a team this year. At the first of the year, the Eagles set their goal to be No. 1 in the State. Well, they came as close to that goal as they possibly could get. The team finished 1st in the District; 2nd in State.

The Eagles kicked off with a victory and didn't let the crowd down. Eagle fans and supporters followed the Eagles from county to county. The more games they played, the larger the crowd got. T.A.'s old rival, Coosa Valley, was one of the bigger games played. Eagles defeated the Rebels, and the crowd was growing larger. At the State play-off the stadium was packed. There wasn't a seat left. People were all "mobbed" up against the fence watching the Eagles win the first round of the State play-off. Victorious Eagles then traveled to Grove Hill for the State Championship play-off. The Eagles held them excellently the first half but in the second half, they just couldn't seem to do it. The Eagles' season ended with only one tie with Faith Academy, 6-6, and with a record of 10-1-1.

Eagles Can't Get It Together

Varsity players were: Howell Tapley, Timmy Fulmer, Mack Presley, David Allred, Roger Burdette, Jay Wesson, Franklin Self, Lauris Ledbetter and Coach Mark Davis.

Timmy Fulmer tries to make a free throw.

Jay Wesson tries to relax a little on the bus.

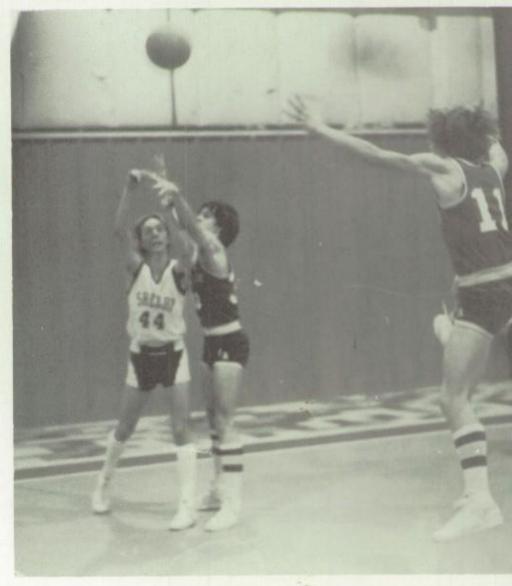

Franklin Self drives for the goal. The Eagles offense demonstrates coordinated team effort.

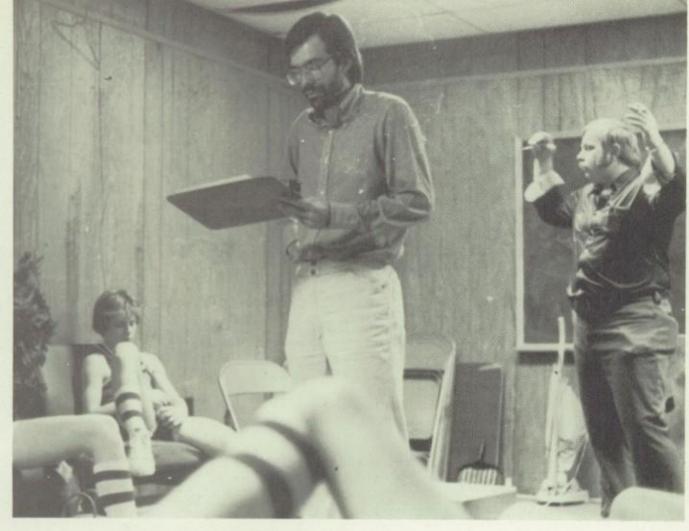

Coach Davis enthusiastically instructs the team during a brief time out.

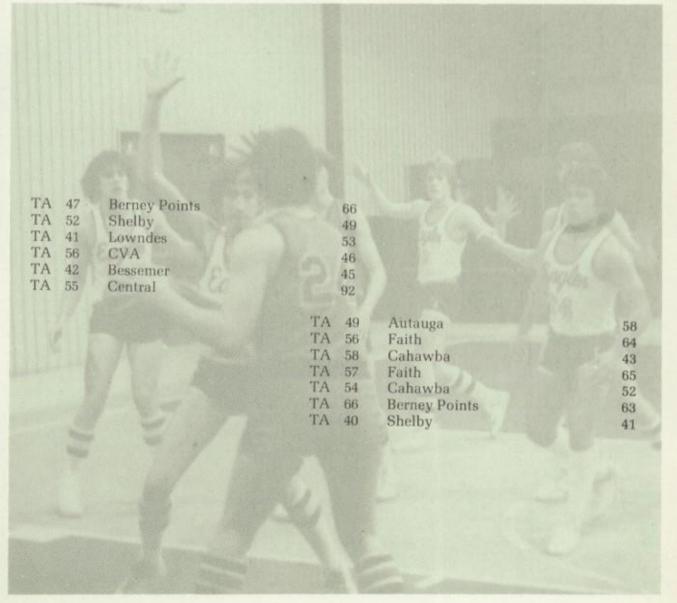

Jay "Possum" Wesson hustles down the court. David Allred and Jay "Possum" Wesson struggle to block a frantic pass.

Coach Davis doesn't seem too pleased with the statistics from the first half.

Mack Presley tries to make the best of a free throw.

Lady Eagles Suffer Disappointing Season

Eagerly awaiting her return to the court, Karan Gaither thinks of the plays she will run.

Tammie Brown makes a desperate pass to Cannon Fannin.

Ginger Hall concentrates on sinking the next free throw.

Basketball has its downfalls, and Lisa Simmons has just experienced

At the beginning of the season, the Lady Eagles expected to have a fair season. Inexperience as well as injuries led to a disappointing season, with only three wins.

Inexperience was perhaps the biggest problem. Most of the '79 Eagles graduated, which meant that the '80 team had little or no playing experience.

Head Coach Mike Patterson said that after a few more games together, the girls could really have a good team. He compared the '80 Eagles to the previous teams, such as the '79 team, which after a couple of years of playing together made the state playoffs.

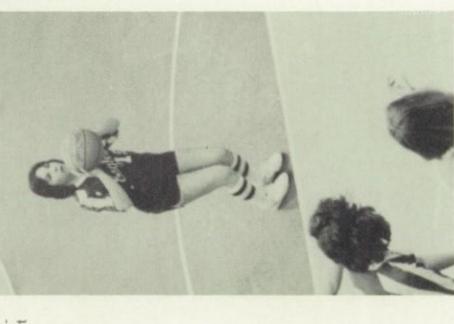

Although this season was a letdown to the students, they were left with high hopes for future seasons.

Lisa Simmons shoots a needed free throw.

BOING! BOING! BOING! That's The Way The Ball Bounces

The Junior High Basketball team had a losing season winning only three games. Unfortunately, the scores are unavailable.

The Junior Eagles worked very hard but just couldn't pull it off. They had a new coach this year, Coach Jimmy Kilgore.

In an attempt to score, Lauris Ledbetter, passes the ball to an Eagle player.

As Jackie Swinford winds up for the pitch, Roger Burdette covers third base.

Cocked and ready, Mike Dye awaits the pitch.

A Quitter Never Wins and

The Eagle athletes were honored at a banquet held in the gym. Outstanding athletes were: Howell Tapley, MVP basketball; Timmy Fulmer, basketball 100%; Rusty Reynolds, Highest Batting Average; Roger Burdette, MVP varsity basketball; Jackie Swinford, MVP baseball; Mike Dye, baseball 100%; Franklin Self, basketball Most Improved Player; Mark Springfield, football 100%; Mushy Thornton, Best Defensive Back; Lee Halpin, Best Defensive Lineman; Jackie Swinford, varsity football MVP and Best Offensive Back; Mike Dye, 100% Award football; Scott Coker, Best Offensive Lineman; Jimmy Harrell, Highest Grade Point Average male athlete; Marguerite Hackney, Highest Grade Point Average, female athlete; Kim Mitchell, Most Outstanding Jr. High Cheerleader; Ginger Hall, MVP girl's basketball; Lily Weaver, Most Outstanding Varsity Cheerleader; Cannon Fannin, 100% girl's basketball.

Coach Davis hands Glenn Bussey his football letter as a reward for his hard work.

Marguerite Hackney finds it hard to control emotions as she accepts her trophy.

Coach Mike Patterson and his wife seem to have enjoyed the Athletic Banquet.

People

The Headmaster of our school, Mr. Miller, discusses one of the administrative problems with Sharon Hinton who is a member of the office staff.

Rebecca Schuler and Mrs. Godsey are caught in the process of preparing lunch for the hungry students.

Mrs. Carolyn Bussey tries desperately to get caught up with her book-keeping before a day's end.

These pages are dedicated to the people who run our school. They are the ones who must deal with all of the problems which may arise from day to day. They feed the students, keep the records and files, and keep all of the different aspects that make a school run smoothly. T.A. would be in a state of turmoil without them.

Nothin' Serious

For those who are familiar with the life style at T.A., the pictures on this page need no explanation. For the unseasoned observer, however, a few comments are essential. You see, on some days when life and school have gotten you down some people just have to let go. The best way to do this is to just go wild. The pictures on these pages are documented accounts of just such days.

Everybody has his days, as is evident here by Mrs. Perkins' out of the ordinary behavior.

Ginger Hall shows one of her hidden sides as Mrs. Perkins directs her in the proper way to handle a heart.

Normal? Some people might think so as David Allred dances around the room with a bowl on his head.

Sharon Hinton contributes to the insanity at T.A. by cheering in homeroom.

To the untrained eye, this may look like your average pool game, but notice where Karan Gaither is aiming her cue.

Even Sebastian gets into the act. Here he models the latest thing in terry cloth outfits.

There are those people who sometimes act a bit odd when they don't think anyone is looking, and then there are those who act really odd when they know somebody is looking as evident here by Mike Beverly, Ginger Hall, and Sue Pace.

This year's Jr.-Sr. was held on Saturday, April 12th, at the Downtowner in Anniston. It was a great success because of the hard work of both the Juniors and Seniors. Money was raised throughout the year to pay for the use of the Downtowner and the band, Fantasy.

Preparations for the Prom were made Saturday afternoon by the Juniors and Seniors.

Finally, after all the work, the night had come. The girls looked lovely in their gowns and the guys so handsome in their tuxedos.

The theme for this year's Jr.-Sr. was 'We've Got Tonight' and they did have a night to remember.

After the prom was over, many people gathered at Franklin Self's house for a breakfast.

Al Armstrong and Kathy Doss enter the columns at the Jr.-Sr.

Mike Dye and Lisa Simmons walk happily on the dance floor.

Skip Bates and Kelly Trammel look excited about the Jr.-Sr.

Dana Fisher and Pete Zaring walk through the columns to dance to the theme song of the prom.

Ginger Hall and Kevin Paris walk around the room to say hi to everyone.

Lisa Simmons shows Mike Dye what a nice time she is having by kissing him on the cheek.

MAKING IT FINAL

The night has finally arrived which the students of the class 1980 have awaited twelve long and probably the happiest twelve years of their lives. Graduation night is just the big night that makes everything final and to show parents and fellow students that you have completed your twelve years of hard work and are ready to go into the future and carry on your life and make something out of your life that you really want.

Ginger Hall shows her joy as she runs out the door as a graduate of Talladega Academy.

Amy Fain and David Allred show emotions as they walk out the door after graduation.

Jackie Swinford leaves the stage after accepting his diploma.

Mark Springfield, Jeb Fannin, and Karen Jinks stand in the parking lot after graduation.

Exiting the graduation, Al Armstrong shows his achievement.

Sue Pace leaves the stage after accepting her earned diploma.

Still not believing they have graduated, Seniors stand around after graduation and talk about their future.

Hugs and kisses are in order for the graduates after having earned their diplomas which they have worked so hard for the past twelve years.

Laurie Pitts hurriedly comes up the stage to get her diploma.

Melinda Horn and Timmy Fulmer have a very proud smile on their faces as they walk out the door after graduation.

As we made footprints in the sand of time
The silent hours rolled on—
And the flaky darkness broke within the east
To remind us that the future will carry each of us in different directions, but we realize that the horizon is not the boundary of the world.
